Summary Town Council Meeting

Summary of a regular meeting of Town Council held on Thursday, April 13th.

Council authorized a contribution to the Purple Pansy Fund for Senior Citizen project in memoriam for Dr. Ian G. Waugh.

Garbage Contract Bylaw No. 573 was presented for Council consideration and final enactment. The Bylaw received the necessary three readings and passed.

The Secretary submitted a request on behalf of Mrs. Bernice Hucal, of Wetaskiwin, for permission to hold a canvass of Drayton Valley during week of May 14-20 for donations to the Mentally Retarded Children Fund of Wetaskiwin District. Council granted permission for the canvass.

The Secretary advised that plans were tentatively arranged to hold the Spring Cleanup Campaign during first two weeks in May with extra pickup forces being laid on during the last week. Council directed that extra pickup forces for Spring Cleanup Campaign be authorized for the period May 7 to 12, 1972.

Council appointed Alex B. Zubot to represent the Town on the "Miles for Millions" Trustee Committee.

Wendy Sekura attended at the Council meeting to inform Council of a proposal for development on his land, SW 9-49-7-W5. It was pointed out that this land is outside of the Town limits at present.

Council thanked him for his submission and requested that he prepare it in more detail and submit to the Development Committee and the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission for advice and study.

A.E.S. Ltd. representatives Stan Lawrence and Basil O'Brien attended at Council meeting to go over the tenders with Council and explain the possible reasons for the high tendered prices.

Final estimate of water plant and intake amounts to $456,000.

Escalation of cost primarily results from need to increase the size of the pump from 300,000 gpm to 500,000 gpm thus all other aspects of the project had to be built accordingly. Thus the slight oversizing has contributed to the increased cost.

Mr. O'Brien stated that alternatives might be: Re-tender with a reduced type plant; re-negotiate with the three lowest bidders (which could cut up to $20,000); or go along with the tenders.

Mr. Lawrence suggested that after the rationing years and with the extra-ordinary expansion enjoyed for past two years the town will probably require the maximum or close to maximum of 500 gpm as opposed to the considered production rate of

Fashion Show Held at F.M.H.S.

A fashion show with the theme "Sew Yin Yang," was presented by stylist Miss Jeannette von Holland of the Educational Department of Simplicity and Style Patterns, on Monday, April 17, at 1:30 p.m. at the Frank Maddock High School auditorium. The exciting collection of costumes were modelled by Home-Economics students of Frank Maddock High, St. Anthony's, and Drayton Valley Junior High.

Some interesting ideas were as follows: Wear "your own" length as this year decrees no fixed skirt length;

Pedal Pushers Course Planned

A pedal-pushers course will be held in Drayton Valley this spring under the sponsorship of the Rotary Club. Mike Gormley and Brian Thorstad are the members of the Rotary Committee handling the course.

The course is open to boys and girls in Grades 1 to 6 and will consist of seven classes of between one and one and a half hours after school.

Registration for the course is 50¢ and registration will take place at the Centennial Civic Centre at 5:00 p.m. on Monday, May 1st. Classes will start soon after registration.

Break-ins Reported

Local RCMP report two breaking and enterings on the night of April 19th or morning of April 20th at The Western Review and the Imperial Lumber Yard.

Nothing was reported stolen from The Western Review office although a side door had been forced open. Five dollars in dimes was found missing at Imperial Lumber -- also broken into through a forced-open door.

Both cases are presently under investigation.

Another New Look

Most readers have probably already noticed a change in format for this week's issue of The Western Review.

By narrowing our columns slightly and utilizing white space previously wasted we have added an extra column to each page. The six-column format gains us between one-half to three-quarters of a column per page.

We believe the new style to be quite readable and the change is being made to increase the capacity of the paper in the usual number of pages.

Juveniles Face Charges

Local RCMP report that five juveniles have been charged in a break and enter at the Tomahawk School March 25th.

Ten charges of breaking and entering with intent and wilful damage were laid against the youths. Nothing was reported to be stolen.

D.V. Highlights

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

Very best good wishes for future happiness go to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tucker, nee Brenda Hrynnyk, who were married in Drayton Valley on Saturday.

The usual whist party at Dunington Hall on Saturday found Mrs. Look and Robert Hewlett with high scores. Mrs. Dunington and Kelly Hewlett received consolation prizes.

Mrs. Jim Smith, of Rocky Rapids, is in the local hospital suffering from a heart attack. Get well soon, Mrs. Smith.

It seems very natural to see Dr. and Mrs. MacLure in town and to see the doctor around the hospital. The MacLure's three sons graduate this spring from the University of Alberta. David graduates in Dentistry and will work with Melvin Taskey; Andrew in Medicine; and Paul in Physical Education. Andrew is an intern at the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton and Paul, after a summer in the oil field, will return to university to get a degree in Education.

A wedding of interest was solemnized in Drayton Valley United Church on April 20th when Dale, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, of Drayton Valley, and Miss Thelma Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Verna Johnson, of Wildwood, were united in marriage. Best wishes for a happy future, Dale and Thelma.

Mrs. Jensen, of Rocky Rapids is in the local hospital. We hope you will soon be well, Mrs. Jensen.

Also on the sick list Mrs. William Medwed in hospital for an indefinite stay. Your friends are thinking of you, Mary.

350 gpm. One contributing reason to setting up 500 gpm plant was to insure good quality water even during low water. The clarifiers would not have to over work and cause filter blockage and passing of impurities through the main line.

After hearing the representatives of A.E.S. Ltd. outline the status of the Water System Addition project after receipt of tenders for the project, it became apparent that the original estimate as included in Bylaw No. 553 was under-financed by over $200,000.00 and therefore an additional bylaw would be required to authorize the difference.

Council authorized borrowing of additional $205,227.00 required to finance the Water Treatment plant construction be given first reading and approval be sought of Local Authorities Board for this additional financing.

Council rejected the offer received from G. VanDorp to Purchase Lot B, Block 22, with request to rezone to Commercial class, on the grounds that it is not suitable for the development proposed and also the purchase price is not sufficient.

Council tentatively approved of the County Residential subdivision in NE 5-49-7-W5 on the basis that the lots sizes be enlarged to a minimum of two acres and the developer is responsible for financing the drilling and bringing into production of water well, connecting same and installing water and sewer mains to serve the subdivisions and providing outfall and connection to the sewer lagoon under Town supervision.

Council is in agreement that West Valley Properties Ltd. development in NE 8-49-7-W5 will prepay water and sewer local improvements and that the streets and lanes improvements will be constructed in accordance with past policy and sidewalks, pavement and curbs and gutters improvements will be paid for by annual frontage payments when constructed.

Bylaw No. 574 authorizing the purchase of pumper unit for $1000.00 was given three readings and passed.

Chairman of Protection, A. B. Zubot, reported on Committee meeting held on April 7, regarding restrictive parking on 51 Avenue and 52 Avenue between 50 Street and 52 Street, and restricting heavy trucks in Commercial areas.

Council approved the Protection Committee recommendation re two hour parking on 51 Avenue and 52 Avenue between 50 Street and 52 Street.

Council also approved the Protection Committee recommendation to prohibit one ton and over motor vehicles from parking on 51st Street.

Council directed that Edmonton Regional Planning Commission designate that the Park Reserve credit in the balance of the SE 17-49-7-W5 be awarded to the Town in money rather than in land because the Council had determined that land is not required to develop a public park in this industrial subdivision and the money can be better utilized to improve existing park reserve properties in town as permitted under Section 26.2(8) of The Alberta Planning Act.

Council agreed that Western Trailer Court be permitted to pursue the proposal to develop the N 1/2 Lot A, Block 11, Plan 5935 H.W., as a trailer court providing all regulations pertaining to health, sanitation, etc., are adhered to completely.

The Secretary advised Council that Don Williams had approached him about gaining the franchise to salvage all materials, etc. salvageable from nuisance grounds and for this privilege he would supervise the burning of combustible garbage and direct the disposal of garbage into proper pits provided. Council directed that the subject of awarding franchise for salvage operations in nuisance ground be placed in abeyance for another meeting.

Recreation Chairman made the report of meetings of Recreation Board since last Council meeting.

Council authorized the hiring of a man for parks and sports grounds maintenance similar to 1971 policy.

Council instructed that letters received from truck owners, who had written regarding our letters to them directing them not to park heavy trucks in the residential area, be acknowledged but advise each that the regulations pertaining to parking of vehicles in residential areas must be enforced.

Council accepted the offer from the Senior Citizens Group to erect a sign identifying the site of Senior Citizen's Home and setting up benches in commercial area.

CHANGE IN PUBLISHING DAY

Although the management of this paper dislikes very much the business of our publishing day flitting back and forth, we have found over the past several months that Tuesday issuance of the paper presents too many problems to be satisfactory. During these trial months the heavy bulk of the work was occasioned on the weekends when our staff is normally absent.

Therefore, with this issue, we are returning to the Wednesday printing day where we hope to remain.

We are, however, taking steps to insure that readers outside the town will still receive their papers at the customary time. Arrangements are being completed with the Post Office Department to have a member of our staff deliver bundles to post offices in surrounding communities. Some papers will be late this week, but the delivery arrangements should be completed in time for next week's paper.

This change will permit us to advance deadlines as follows:

Report From Parliament Hill

By Allen Sulatycky, M.P.

Many constituents have written to me regarding the alleged change in the name of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Such a change is undesirable to say the least, and I share the concern of many citizens should the allegation be true. Recently however, I received a most reassuring reply from the Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, W. L. Higgitt. In part he said:

"I am sure you are aware that many unfounded rumours have been developed on this matter which apparently have been based on an unsupported allegation that the name of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police had or was about to be changed. As Commissioner my response to these enquiries has been that there is not and has never been the slightest suggestion from anyone that our name ought to be in any way altered, and I give them my assurance that I am confident our present name will endure for as far as it is possible to see into the future."

"Insofar as the signs on our buildings are concerned, a new type of sign was developed about four years ago for such new buildings as we acquired. We had never had a particularly good or standard sign prior to that time and the decision was taken that a large replica of our official crest, of which our full name, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, has always formed an integral part, should be used as the central identifying portion. This has been done and has been in use since 1968. Some two years ago this was formalized by specification by placing the sign on a background of blue and gold which are our traditional colours."

"Insofar as the patrol vehicle marker is concerned, originally and for many years we used no identification except our bare crest alone. Later, this and the initials 'R.C.M.P.' were placed on a white shield. The new marker retains our formal crest in full colour in a place of prominence, with the full name, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, as a part of it. It also has our full name written out in both official languages in two other places, together with the operative word 'POLICE'. The whole of this is again on a background of blue and gold instead of the black and white of the previous shield, and certainly has not been designed to be less attractive or to remove our name from public view. The design of these vehicle markers commenced in the summer of 1970, but the manufacture of the decals was only recently completed."

I welcome Commissioner Higgitt's statement on this matter, as it speaks for itself in clearing up a great deal of misunderstanding.

Everybody's Job

When was the last time you read about the death of a child in the streets? Whether your answer is yesterday...last week...last month...or last year, the death of a child in traffic is a blot on the record of every person in any community. And no matter how safe your town may have been up to the present, potential death for untrained children lurks on every corner along every street.

Every person, old and young alike, should recognize and actively accept his responsibility for the safety of every child in traffic.

Because the youngster is still growing into adult attitudes and developing understanding, because his experiences are yet limited and his knowledge of results and consequences is incomplete, because he is impressionable and sensitive to the example of others; he needs protection from his own heedless acts. He must be given a good example.

Bicycle training is extremely valuable to traffic safety because of the chance of saving young lives. But of equal importance is its effect on the attitude and behaviour of a group which will be driving motor cars in a very few years.

The pedal pushers program announced by the Drayton Valley Rotary Club is a step toward greater safety in traffic and a commendable undertaking by the club.

No Consideration

Every spring as the snow retreats the dog evidence appears to mar the landscape and irritate home owners. None of us enjoy wading through dog fertilizer and it is particularly annoying to parents of small children and those who enjoy their lawns and gardens.

The whole dog problem revolves around a lack of consideration by some pet owners for their neighbors. Neighbors who might be upset if you channeled your sewage on to their back lawn, appear to think nothing of their pet treating your lawn to this treatment daily.

As anyone familiar with municipal government is well aware the dog problem is a knotty one and the bylaws difficult to enforce — catching the culprit being the first obstacle. Regardless of the number of dog catchers we go through, it seems the problem will remain with us until the negligent pet owners begin treating their neighbors with the consideration each of us reasonably expects of one another.

BE CAREFUL! Prevent Farm Accidents

outside Calgary and Edmonton, Mr. Peacock said priorities outlined in the legislation will channel the loans to rural areas.

The priorities for the loaning policy specified in the legislation are enterprises which are labor-intensive, those owned by Canadian citizens living in Alberta, those wishing to locate in smaller centres, research projects which are directed toward increasing production and projects which enhance tourist potential in the province.

The legislation provides for a five to seven member board to administer the fund. The board will be set up as a crown corporation and employ the staff now used by the government in its various industrial promotion and development areas.

Two members of the board will likely be a successful businessman from outside Calgary and Edmonton as well as a representative of the financial community in the province.

Parents Scream, while Little Boys Cry

Jared Lebow, Associate Sports Editor of Look Magazine in the June 1971 issue asked the question "Remember when kids' games used to be fun?"

Americans are not alone in highly organized minor sports, and because we feel it contains food for thought for Canadians, the first half of the article is reprinted here.

"You embarrassed me," the coach shouts at them.

"You embarrassed your families and your hometown. You ought to be ashamed of yourselves."

Spread out before him, sitting on grass wet with evening dew, is his team. The players look ashamed. They travelled from south Florida to New Orleans to play a football game, and they lost. Now, they listen to their coach. They believe what he is saying. Most 12-year-old boys believe what adults tell them. They cry.

Insane? Of course it is, but a certain insanity has taken over the games kids play. Once they were just fun. Today, in a large section of middle-class America they have become too serious to be fun.

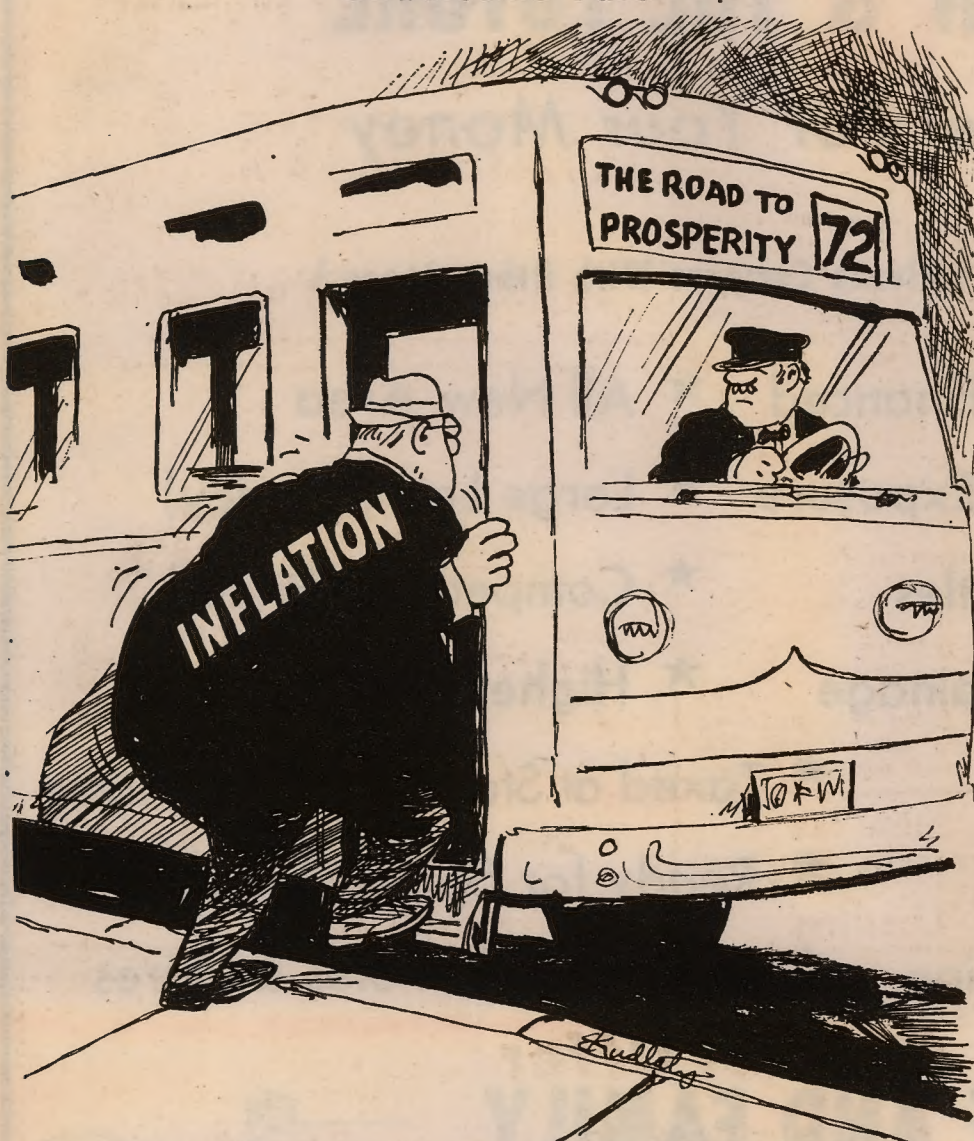

It is a lesson Dr. Allen Kline, a Houston pediatrician, learned not long ago when he offered to coach a baseball team of nine-and-ten-year-old boys. A varsity baseball player during his undergraduate days at the University of Texas, he thought it would be fun to share his knowledge of the game with young boys. He was wrong. Fun is out of style. It is winning that counts.

Dr. Kline had a policy of allowing each of the 21 boys on his team to play in at least part of every game. "I guess you might say I was naive," he now admits "but I didn't realize they kept won-lost records for boys that age."

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By Kevin Peterson of The Calgary Herald

A $50 million industrial incentive plan, aimed at encouraging the development of small businesses in Alberta's smaller communities, was introduced in the Legislature this week.

The Alberta Opportunity Fund will provide loans of up to $500,000 to help set up new businesses or expand existing operations. The legislation allows the fund to make direct loans or guarantee loans from conventional lenders for up to 80 per cent of the total capital cost.

Industry and Commerce Minister Fred Peacock said the new program "is not a panacea to all the ills and problems of setting up industry but it is an important start to changing Alberta's economic base."

The program is the keystone of Mr. Peacock's campaign to dramatically increase the amount of secondary industry in the province and reduce Alberta's reliance on resource extraction.

The legislation makes no provision for forgiving the loans, but does allow the Alberta Opportunity Company -- the board which will administer the fund -- to grant a 30-month grace period on repayment.

Mr. Peacock said the Conservative government has no intention of getting involved in a giveaway scheme with business: "We do not feel it is the role of government to give away public funds to build profitable businesses."

The new fund will take over the existing operations of the Alberta Commercial Corporation and the industrial incentives program started by the Social government next year.

It will have $25 million in public funds -- $10 million from existing programs and $15 million provided in this year's budget. Mr. Peacock said he expects the other $25 million in loans the corporation will be authorized to make will come in the form of guarantees of borrowing from conventional sources.

While the new legislation removes the provision which restricted the industrial incentives scheme to centres

Parents Scream

He found out such records were kept after his team lost five straight. At four in the morning, his doorbell rang. Now, when a doctor is awakened at 4 a.m., he assumes there is an emergency. So he leaped out of bed and dashed to the door. There was no one there - just a plastic briefcase containing detailed plans on how to turn his team into a winner. The practice of letting all the boys play had to go; only the nine best should play. They were listed by position. "I later learned who prepared the plan," said Dr. Kline. "It was the father of one of our least-talented players. He naturally had placed his son on the first nine."

Dr. Kline lives in the suburbs of Houston, in an area with 250 baseball teams for boys ranging in age from eight to 15. The teams are organized into leagues, complete with officials, uniforms, grandstands and paid umpires. There are play-offs and all-star games.

"I went to an all-star game involving 11-year-old boys last year," says Dr. Kline. "It was treated as seriously as the World Series." The game was climaxed by a close call at home plate, which set off a free-swinging fistfight, not between the boys, but between the adult managers.

Fathers of boys between the ages of eight and 12 seem to take the game much more seriously than parents of older boys. Says Dr. Kline: "When the boys are younger, many of the fathers have visions of them growing up and signing fat major-league contracts. As the boys get older, and it becomes obvious they are not going to be superstars, the fathers seem to lose interest."

Until then, many of the younger boys pay the price of their parents' ambitions. "I've had fathers call and ask if their sons could play with a broken nose or a pulled muscle," says Dr. Kline.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor,
The Western Review,
Dear Sir;

I have just arrived back at the school, after a trip to Russia and just wanted to send this brief letter.

The U.S.S.R. was very interesting and was not what I expected, which was a pleasant surprise.

First of all I believed that everything would be out of date due to the lack of the Western influence, but in fact the popular fashions were generally being followed.

Young boys continually stopped us in the streets and wanted to trade us some of their souvenir medals for our bubble gum! Gum is a desirable item to them. Our clothes brought many high offers. They were also willing to pay premium prices for our money in the streets.

Contrary to many beliefs the Russians are very proud of their history although they do not believe in the political system that had existed previously.

Millions have been spent on the restoration of many palaces etc. Many mansions and former palaces have been converted into museums, while others have become offices and apartment buildings.

The Arts are an essential part of Russian life. National galleries such as the Hermitage contain works by van Gogh, Picasso, Michelangelo and Rembrandt. The theatre and opera as well as ballet are attended regularly by the average citizen.

People were helpful to us in many ways. Students studying English gave up their holidays to be our guides and would be with us from nine in the morning 'til seven in the evening. They were in many cases willing to talk about politics, much to our surprise, and they were honest in stating their views. They were usually convinced their system was right yet they were willing to listen to our views.

We were easily spotted as foreigners in the cities of Leningrad and Moscow. Women as a rule do not wear slacks and they always have a hat or a scarf on. Also the fashions are much more moderate in Leningrad. Moscow is much more friendly and cosmopolitan. People in Leningrad appeared unfriendly until they got to know us.

At the time of our visit the weather was fresh and the temperature 0° cent. Snowball fights were enjoyed by many people and on this point the true nature of the Russian people came through when we saw Russian army officers throwing snowballs at each other and laughing.

My visit convinced me that people all over the world are essentially the same, even though their political beliefs differ widely.

The letter from the Premier never arrived at the embassy in time so I was unable to present it.

Thank you for sending the Western Review. It is a welcome part of home!

ed "No Shooting By-law". It was not the intent of that letter on my part in any way to disrespect the right of the land owner or occupant of private land as some readers may have thought.

I think it is far from a sportsmens wish to have poor relations with land owners, as we have throughout our country today. I know that is not my wish.

We have been introduced to bill C7 in the House of Commons, that could possibly eliminate the average Canadians privilege to hunt or shoot, as has been our forefathers that went before us to explore and settle our wide and wonderful country. We have "No Litter" by-laws along our highways, "No air, lake, or river pollution" acts and look whats happening over the country wide. Do we really need more by-laws or Bills? Or try and use a little common sense toward our fellow-men and neighbours and enforce the ones we already have.

SUB-MITS

FROM THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Charlie Brown says that "Happiness is a warm puppy". Grade six children here have their definition of happiness. Their views reflect many adult values. Many children said that happiness is --

- a friend.
- being accepted by people
- having friends, because when you have friends everything goes right.
- just being able to go with the gang.
- playing records with your friends.

Many also reflect the material wealth of the world in "Happiness is --

- a raise in your allowance
- when I get my allowance.
- getting a 10-speed.
- riding a mini-bike.

There were also those definitions that make for easy reading. "Happiness is --

- when something bad happens to your enemy.
- a good book to read.
- getting out of school at 9:00 in the morning.
- getting excellent on my accordion lesson.
- when someone calls and says your accordion lesson is called off.
- making a score in hockey
- playing hockey all year around.
- having an A on my report card.
- a secret.
- passing a test in skating.
- a great idea or a funny joke.

- a feeling you have inside.
- a 12 year vacation from school and getting away with it.
- long recesses.
- the day you're set free

Reflections 71-72

from being grounded for two weeks.

- when teachers don't yell at you.
- no girls in school.
- learning something new every day.
- having a flat tire on the school bus.

TOWN OF DRAYTON VALLEY CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN 1972

... is now getting into high gear, although the weatherman tried his best to dampen it down, and all residents are requested to participate. Gather up all the accumulations of the year that you deem rubbish and prepare it such that it may most conveniently be picked up by our collection forces. Clear out those basement corners that have become fire prone and not only make them tidy but safe as well.

A word about people using the waste disposal facilities: There are signs posted to designate the areas for various refuse disposal. You are asked to co-operate fully, otherwise indiscriminate dumping means additional expense to restore order to the chaos created and that is YOUR MONEY. Only this weekend some thoughtless individual unloaded a quantity of willow branches, etc. right on the middle of the Nuisance Ground Road. This, of course, meant the services of a couple of men and equipment besides, to clear the road for use by our Garbage Contractor. A little thought for the other fellow coming behind can eliminate all of these problems.

In leaving we would very much like to remind everyone to prepare their waste, refuse and garbage bundles to assure convenience and ease to the collectors.

DO YOU KNOW THAT

1. You can obtain information as to the number of kinds of weed seeds you intend to purchase if you ask. (Section 12 of Canada Seeds Act Regulations states that sellers of seed must either label seed containers with the weed seed content information or supply same at time of sale at the request of the purchaser).

2. All seed sold off the premises of the producer or that is publicly advertised must bear the following information: Name and address of the seller; the kind and variety. Forage seed and rape seed must bear a variety name unless the seed is pedigreed; the lot number; the weight (or bushels); and the Canada Seed Grade.

If you are using your own seed take a bucketfull of "clean" seed into the kitchen (if allowed) and after supper, under good light, each member of the family take a quartful and inspect it carefully. Separate and save the poor seeds and impurities. Trade inspected samples and see if you can find what sis, brother, mon or dad missed. If you do not know your weed seeds, send them in to the Plant Industry Division Laboratory O.S. Longman Building, 6909 - 116 Street, Edmonton for free identification. Hope you'll settle for nothing less than 1st grade seed - might inquire sometime too as to who sells Certified Seed of your variety - or is there an improved variety? While we're doing things like this as a family lets get back to caring and being particular about quality.

Sheep Field Day at Breton at the Sim's farm 11 miles west of Breton, starting 10:00 a.m. Tuesday, May 2nd. The program will have Gordon Wells demonstrating shearing methods, foot trimming and speaking on various management techniques. Perry Hook, grade nine student, demonstrates his water purification plant.

Student Models Purification Plant

Perry Hook, a grade nine student at St. Anthony's Separate School, saw a picture of a water purification plant in a magazine one day, decided he would like to reconstruct one, and set about doing so.

With a little help from an encyclopedia, a few scraps of wood, and some of his mother's containers, Perry was able to make his plant. In fact, it worked so well, and showed the process of water purification so clearly, that his teachers wanted him to enter it in the student Science Fair two weeks ago. However, problems arose and his plant never did make it debut!

Perry said it took about three weeks to make. Starting at the top of the model with a container that represents the town's reservoir or lake, he explained the process. The water is pumped to a mixing basin, and as it is fed through, the sand and heavier particles are thrown to the bottom, and the water is treated with alum, lime chlorine and activated carbon.

The water then enters a filtering station, on to the storage tank and to the consumer. More chlorine is added after the water leaves the filtering station, which kills bacteria between the sediment basin and the consumer

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

RUSTY ZANDER, M.L.A.

This week started with introduction of new Bills and second reading of Bills previously introduced.

Perhaps the announcement of the hearing on the oil Royalty question and also that pertaining to the percentage that would be open for review was a shocking revelation to the people of this province.

As tabled by our Premier only approximately 25% of our Royalty can perhaps be reviewed, while the remainder of the contracts are tied by agreement, and by legislation to the year 1978 and beyond. Very few leases in our constituency are due for review in 1973. Most leases are or come due in the 1973 to 1980's and some are beyond this date.

So really the former government made a great error in judgment, if they really wanted a review in oil leases - all leases should have had this clause contained in the contract. However, since this was not done, our government finds itself in a area where there is no room to move. And we'll have to wait until a government position paper on oil royalties is tabled in the Legislature.

The question on Task Forces by government M.L.A.s who are only paid out of pocket expenses for travel and subsistence, comes under fire in the House from time to time, and only last night, Thursday of this week was no exception.

The Opposition, the former government of the province and its members, can't understand that all government M.L.A.s are involved in formulating government policy, which was never done before, because the former government appointed people for this type of work and paid them a handsome salary. And I would like to point my finger at one of these and that one being the former Municipal Finance Committee, which was fired by our government. This Committee that the former government selected paid its Chairman $30,000 per year and all other members $26,000 plus all expenses. The Order in Council passes the amount of $250,000 for this Committee, so you can understand why our government had to put a stop to this free give away of government funds. The Committee now established by our government will save the people of the province of Alberta over $200,000 in this one Committee alone, not even to mention the sums of other Committees established by the former government - Committees which have now been discontinued.

Our Premier had said in the election campaign that the role of M.L.A. would be greatly increased in the formation of government policy, and he meant just that! No longer is the Executive Council supreme in forming policy as it used to be under the former government. All 48 members of our government are involved, as it should be, and many times in Caucus there is heated debate and many times we do not agree, and at all times we consider the effects certain legislation would have on our people. The effects differ greatly in various parts of our province, so we have to perhaps have a study on the matter before any direction is taken or any legislation is prepared.

It seems that since September 10, 1971 only eight months after the election, we have moved in various directions and effected legislation in the direction of our senior citizens, agriculture established a $50 million loan fund for industry and urban and rural areas. Our towns and villages are badly in need of industrial development to stem unemployment and diversify our industry by decentralization.

WALLPAPER

Modern wallpapers are a good source of both color and pattern, and are important factor in setting the character of room whether it be old-fashioned or sophisticated, exuberated or understated, humorous or dignified. They range from the expensive flocked papers which provide a suitable background for the finest furnishings, and the most formal period rooms to the cheaper lighter-weight papers which have a choice of color and design to suit any taste. Because of the inexpensive outlay (if a do-it-yourself project) you can be a bit daring with wall-paper. Kitchen walls do not have to be covered with vegetables, and teapots. Aclassical, scenic or floral paper would be just as appropriate and practical with a plastic coating. You may then choose one of the colors from the paper to paint the molding on drawers and cupboards, hand a wrought iron chandelier instead of a Swedish globe, and the result will be an original instead of a stereotyped room. Why not use one of the "with it" contemporary papers for an informal powder or recreation room. Another idea is to use the matched fabrics and wallpapers to decorate a whole room -- walls, drapes, and furniture coverings -- in the same pattern. With a little imagination, it is remarkable what one can do with one papered wall, a mural, or even a border, to raise the spirits of a tired uninspiring room.

Sometimes it is more difficult to find good design in textiles than in wallpapers. If floors and walls are plain, then it is very important to choose a patterned fabric for window or furniture treatment. A room with no contrast is rarely interesting!

No longer do we toil over starched organdie, voile and dotted Swiss. The new synthetics for curtains are now being replaced by sheers such as dacron, voule and ninon. Generally these are pleated quite full - at least triple fullness - and there is considerable labour involved in construction. Two budget fabrics burlap and felt do make attractive window and furniture treatments in informal rooms. When it comes to choosing fabrics, one cannot deny the beauty of velvets and brocade but if these are out of range you can achieve good results with less expensive materials. Fabrics are easily coordinated into color schemes and give the interest of texture to any room.

LEARNING DISABILITIES WORKSHOP HELD

A Learning Disabilities Workshop was held recently at Spruce Grove Upper Elementary and Junior High School. Professor Beth Blowers, University of Alberta, was the Instructor and Mr. N. W. McDowell, County of Parkland presided as Chairman.

A total of fifty-one teachers and administrators from County schools were in attendance.

The workshop's emphasis was on the remediation of learning handicaps. It was noted that teachers are well aware of the general etiology, and symptoms such as how perceptual handicap manifests itself in various forms of learning disorders. However, it was demonstrated that information was needed regarding materials, remedial programs and techniques employed in the follow-up of recommendations from diagnostic reports.

Professor Blowers presentation included the various kinds of remedial devices, programs and materials that are available to teachers. Mrs. Blowers also demonstrated methods used to remediate different kinds of learning handicaps and how to employ instructional techniques in treatment of the more common disorders. Areas covered included gross and fine motor skill development, perceptual-visual development, auditory development and also the choice of appropriate reading programs for different kinds of learners.

Gainford News

Mrs. Mildred Lenz of Edmonton is visiting at the homes of her sons Bud and Wayne in Gainford.

Bert and Betty Hodgson of Edmonton and Mrs. Muriel Monaghan, Mrs. Williams' daughter, and girls of Logan Lake, were visitors at the home of the Art Williams. The family made a rush visit this morning to say goodbye as they are flying to Ireland to make their home on a farm. Other visitors at the Williams home were Mrs. Williams' son Alvah, Mary and family of Sunset House, Alberta.

The Lyle family of St. Albert returned Sunday evening from their trip to Victoria. During their stay, they spent a day with the York family, formerly of Gainford. The only thing marring their trip was slight damage to their car by a careless driver changing lanes.

Bingo was held in Gainford Hall Wednesday evening with the jackpot not being won.

Mrs. Klavansky spent two months in Calgary with her son, and six in Vancouver and on the Island. She says she enjoyed the green grass and flowers in B. C. but is glad to be home. The J.W. Millar family returned from their trip to Victoria, bringing Mr. and Mrs. Dave Strachan with them.

Mrs. Redith Miller went to Mayerthorpe to see her mother on Sunday. Mrs. Bruner is in the Senior Citizens Lodge there.

Bruce Hauser is in an Edmonton Hospital, and he is wished a speedy recovery.

HART CANTELON

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

We have a daughter 26 years old. She has had two nervous breakdowns. Each recovery was rapid - about four weeks long. Due to marriage problems and financial difficulties while living on a farm brought these stress situations on. Her husband left in June for another province for work. He has provided no support for her and her three pre-school children. She hadn't heard from him until last month when he sent $100 for children's winter clothes. She got some help from us and from the Social Development office in a nearby city. During this time she has spent money unwisely. She put a lot of repairs on an old car she didn't need. She moved to the city with the children. And got into bad company so had to move. She has made so many long-distance phone calls that her phone has been disconnected because of unpaid bills. She seems to be always finding men friends. When we check on her, we find she has been telling us untruths. For example, she said that she bought new clothes for the children with the money her husband sent her, but didn't. She tells us that her apartment is clean, but it is just awful. Last weekend she came to our hometown and immediately went drinking in the hotel, leaving the children with some relatives. She didn't come back for the children until the next morning. She took one fellow back from here and he stayed at her place for two days. He told us that the place is in a bad mess; the kids seem hungry; and there's nothing to eat in the house. To hear all this has upset the whole family, especially her father. These conditions are affecting his health and causing friction between us and with our other children, two of which are still at home and in their teens. The last time she became sick, she neglected her house and didn't feed the children. It seems to me that she may be getting sick again. I think she needs help. There are rumors that she is thinking of moving again. If this kind of thing is reported she'll lose these children which she fought so hard to keep last time. The trouble is that she is always telling lies but seems to make the story so good that you want to believe she's doing good, but it always proves otherwise. She won't listen to her father or any of her relatives. My husband is so sick today that he said he doesn't want to know her any more. Should we be real firm with her if she doesn't change her way of life? Should we say she's not to come home? She's probably fooled her social worker as I think she sees her at the office. I wish a visit could be made to her apartment so they can see how really sick she is, and I feel so sorry for the little children. What shall we do??

Signed: Desperate Mother

Dear Desperate Mother:

Report all you have told me to her social worker. They need to be put in the picture and realize that she is close to another nervous breakdown. Her behaviour pattern has all the indications of her need to be hospitalized. Then do what you can to help the children while she's getting treatment. Don't reject her, as your husband has suggested. Treat her as a sick person. She needs help badly and her social worker is the one who can put on the pressure to get her to accept the help a psychiatrist and hospital can provide.

As they developed more detailed questions were answered in more detail. At present, he knows his ethnic origin and a few other details and finds the subject interesting just as he does in other areas of life. You see, this way the subject is very natural as we and the children have grown in our understanding from their infancy. Incidentally, I would just like to say how thankful I am for our two children and that their natural mothers gave them to us so that the children could be raised in a family situation on having the love of both a mother and father. How drab our lives would be without them!

Signed: EG

Dear Mr. Cantelon:

May I add a few words from our experience to the reply you made to a person who wrote and signed "Concerned". It was with regard to the explanation of adoption to a child.

The approach we have used with our two adopted children has been very successful and could be used in a variety of ways to meet the individual needs of different children. Even since we got them as babies, we have periodically said, "you are mommy's and daddy's special adopted baby." This with a hug and a kiss. So the word "adopted" became familiar and when our little boy was about two he asked what "adopted" meant. Our answer was "it means mommy and daddy picked you out to be ours for ever and ever."

Dear EG:

Thank-you so much for sharing your experience with others.

Lodgepole News

Events of local interest for the month of April have been overshadowed by our favorite topic which has been the unfavorable weather. But take heart, May is soon with us and with warm days come the bugs.

During the first week several ladies attended a bridal shower for Mardell Pederson at the Community Centre. Best wishes to Mardell and Bruce Burnett whose marriage took place on April 8th at the Emmaus Lutheran Church in Drayton Valley. Their postcards from B. C. speak of rain and cold there also, but the grass is green and there are flowers.

Several families took advantage of the Easter week holiday to travel. The Olson's visited relatives in Arizona. Steve and Audrey Broderson accompanied by his sister Gloria and her husband Jim travelled as far south as Mexico and visited many points of interest.

Mrs. Diesel and children have returned to their home at Lac La Biche for the summer months.

Mr. Bolianatz accompanied by Mr. Dobe took the Grade 7 and 8 on a tour of the Hudson Bay Gas Plant.

Mr. R. McGregor attended the Highlander reunion at Calgary.

Best wishes for good health to Mrs. Audrey Broderson who spent a week in Drayton Valley Hospital and will go to the city for further treatment. Their small daughter Corinna is a patient there and Mrs. Hazel Bolianatz has returned home after a short stay in Drayton Valley Hospital.

Evansburg News

The Evansburg Volunteer Fire Department wish to remind the Village residents of the particularly common fire hazard which occurs each year at this time -- namely, dead grass. Last year 75 per cent of all fire calls were at this critical time, and concerning grass, usually with a garbage-burning barrel. It is each property-owner's responsibility to take measures to eliminate such hazards, preferably under favorably controlled conditions. Remember an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. An inspection of the Village is being conducted in this regard and the high fire risk situations will be brought to the attention of their respective owners. We solicit your support -- Let's not give Demon fire a place to start.

I WAS THINKING OF ALL THE PROMISES YOU MADE BEFORE WE WERE MARRIED--AND HOW FEW YOU'VE KEPT!

DAY IN AND DAY OUT I SLAVE FROM MORNING TILL NIGHT--WHERE ARE THE BUTLERS AND MAIDS YOU PROMISED? I NEVER GET ANYWHERE--WHERE ARE THOSE FLEECY WHITE CLOUDS I WAS TO RIDE?

FURTHERMORE, BLAH, BLAH, BLAH--AND THEY SAY YOU DON'T GET MUCH FOR A PENNY ANY MORE!

PETER WARD'S OTTAWA VIEWPOINT

Trudeau Interprets Nixon's Visit

By PETER WARD

Copyright 1972, Toronto Sun Syndicate

OTTAWA—An extremely instructive example of how government has changed under Pierre Elliott Trudeau was presented during the recent visit of President Richard Nixon to the capital.

The first semi-official function of that flying 40-hour exercise in political cosmetics came two days before the president and his party arrived when the collective Canadian and American newsmen covering the visit were herded into the large conference room of the East Block on Parliament Hill.

We sat for half an hour, listening to the mechanics of how the visit would work, waiting for the two men who would provide a background briefing for us on what issues the two leaders would discuss.

Finally in walked Ivan Head, the prime minister's top adviser, and Ed Ritchie, Under Secretary of State for External Affairs, and former Ambassador to the United States.

Significantly, it was Head who carried the ball, leaving little for Ritchie, the career civil servant, to say. In an earlier time, under an earlier Prime Minister, such a briefing would have been much more in the hands of External Affairs. Perhaps even the Minister would have been there.

As the Nixon visit progressed, it was Head who did the briefing for us—and very competently too, I might add, because Ivan Head knows the Prime Minister's mind on these things, and shares his convictions.

But the Nixon visit smacked all the way through of being a necessary piece of politicking for Pierre Trudeau, and one is entitled to wonder if perhaps the tone of those briefings was adjusted to gloss over some things; ignore others; and emphasize some items beyond their importance.

For that is a danger when the non-partisan professionals of government are short-circuited and their objectivity muzzled.

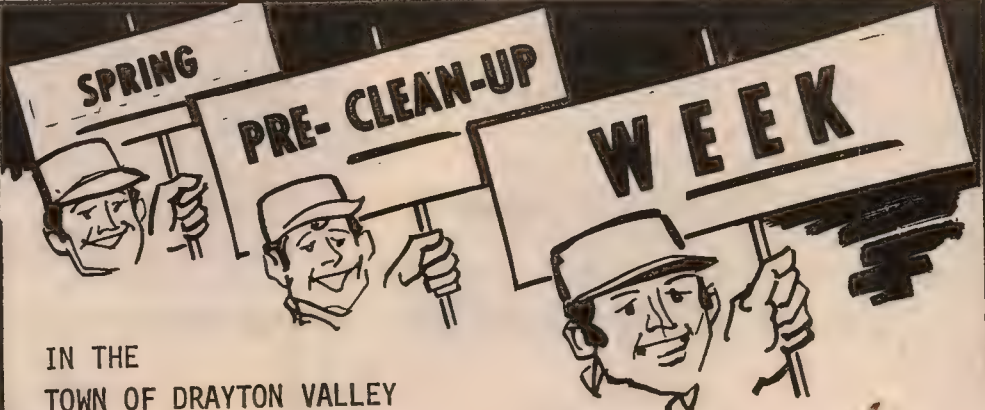

It is something which happens far too often in the Trudeau administration, and one is entitled to ask if the interests of the country, or the interests of the party in power are best served by the new technique.

Police Levy Over $14,000 in Fines

Over $14,000 were levied in total fines for the year 1971, Chief Constable Keith Nicol reported in the County Police Departments' Annual Statement.

Of the $14,325, almost $10,000 were collected in fines payable to the county, and over $4,000 in fines payable to the Provincial Government.

The report also showed that 605 files were handled during the year, 223 being under the Liquor Control Act, closely followed in number by the 205 Highway Traffic Act files. Only two files under the Fuel Tax Act were handled, while 93 came under the Criminal Code.

A total of 563 complaints were received and investigated during the year, with about 414 enquiries being handled by telephone.

Some 400 permits were issued during the year, the majority being road ban permits and fire permits. Constable Nicol reported that fire inspections increased during 1971 and less permits were granted.

A total of 56 prisoners were lodged in County cells during the year, the report continued, and 15 of these were intoxicated persons for safekeeping.

The department found dogs a problem, Constable Nicol said, and 16 dogs were destroyed during the year.

Beat You To The Raft!

The track is very wet, but French horses lap it up.

CHANTILLY, FRANCE — Horses don't see why people should have all the fun. If people find swimming calming to frayed nerves, relaxing, invigorating, as well as good exercise — why can't horses get a piece of the action?

Sympathizing with these equine demands, Culligan, the water-conditioning folks, have built a pool for race horses. It's on the estate of one of France's most famous thoroughbred owners here in Chantilly. Extraordinaire? Mais non! What could be better for the training of race horses?

Designed especially for horses, the pool is dumbbell shaped, having a straightaway of 40 meters (130 feet), with two areas at each end for turning, so that the overall length is approximately 180 feet. Its depth is a uniform 4 meters (about 13 feet). Whatever the weather, the horses can get a workout. They swim four to six lengths of the pool each day, to strengthen their muscles.

The water quality requirements for a horse pool are similar to those for a people pool. Ah yes, even more so. All kinds of wastes must be taken care of. Employing strainers and skimmers at each end of the pool, Culligan filtration equipment keeps the water crystal clear.

Besides this large pool, l'homme Culligan, as he is known here in France, has built a smaller pool for special therapy. Streams of filtered water, revolving and under high pressure, provide hydro-massage to tone muscles and stimulate energies. After a hard day at the track, there is nothing like it. It's especially good for charley horses. Or, for horses, is it charley peoples?

How do the horses like it? They say "Neigh," but what they really mean is "Yea!" Or, more likely, "Oui oui!" Those skinny-dipping French horses really love to splash!

Trudeau to Visit Edson This Week

Prime Minister Trudeau will be visiting Edson on his western tour this week. He will appear at a public meeting in the Parkland Composite High School auditorium at 8:00 p.m. April 27th.

The question and answer session will give an opportunity to meet the Prime Minister. He will be accompanied by M.P. for Rocky Mountain, Allen Sulatycky.

Anyone from Drayton Valley wishing to attend the meeting may contact Mrs. J. McLean at 542-3073 for transportation arrangements.

Latin Mass

Following the usual custom, the parishioners of St. Anthony's Parish will be celebrating a Latin High Mass on Sunday, May 7th at 10:00 a.m.

The reason for the Latin Mass is to allow young people an opportunity to see the Mass as it used to be and also to allow the older generation a chance to worship in the liturgy of their youth.

An added feature this year will be the singing in Latin of many of the parts of the Mass. Everyone is welcome to this Mass.

Lindale News

Rain and snow didn't dampen the spirits of the good turnout at the social and benefit dance, held in Lindale Hall on Friday, April 14th for Judy and Eugene Schwartz, who lost their home by fire on Good Friday.

A family night is being planned for Lindale Hall, on Friday night April 28th. All members of the family welcome, so let's make a real family night of it.

There was a good attendance at the sale held for Norman Phillips of Lindale on Monday, April 17th.

Mrs. Rita Wild of Rocky Mountain House recently visited at the homes of her brother, Mr. Frank Belanger, and Emy Lachance. During her visit she moved Mrs. Frank Belanger from an Edmonton hospital, where she has been the past few months, to Breton Hospital.

There was a good attendance of parents, at a meeting held in Lindale Hall on Tuesday night, April 18th. It is hoped to form two baseball teams of boys ages seven to ten years, and ten to twelve years. Any help in this worthwhile venture will be greatly appreciated.

The road bans in Leduc County have now been lifted.

While the teachers are attending an institute on Friday, April 21, the pupils will be enjoying a holiday.

We often wish that we could find something that tasted as good as the little ice cream sodas we bought fifty years ago.

Wabamun W.I. to Host Anniversary Conference

The Wabamun W.I. held their April meeting in the basement of the United Church on April 4th with 14 members and 6 visitors present.

The Lucky calendars were passed out to those members who were present. This is a money making scheme they are trying out.

Some plans were made for the W.I. Conference to be held in Wabamun in the near future. This year will be their 75th anniversary.

Adelaide Hoodless showed her slides which were very interesting and were enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Dalheim was the guest speaker and she spoke on the help from the W.I. groups to foreign countries. Mrs. Dalheim is hoping that the song "Prairie Rose" will some day be the theme song for Alberta.

The roll call was Pennies and Friendship. Mrs. G. Hancock was the winner of the tea prize.

A lovely lunch was served and Mrs. P. King and Mrs. Charlesworth were recipients of birthday gifts, as they each had their birthdays in April.

An invitation was received from the Drayton Valley W.I. to attend their meeting on May 15th. Several of the ladies are planning on going to this meeting.
